Coray							This week, those who sing harmony (or would like to attempt to sing a part) will be doing the same thing you did to record last week - Please refer to the recording directions from last week using the same recording process. Tuesday: Download the harmony recording from Mr. Coray and run through it at least three times, or until you are very confident about all pitches, entrances and cut offs. (I will

							be done with it and send it by Tuesday morning.) Wednesday: Make the final recording and send it to Mr. Coray at joeyc@bvcs.org. Thursday: Write a one paragraph reflection about the recording process. You may comment on: Was the recording process easy to follow, and why?, Was it enjoyable or not, and why?, Write down a few other thoughts about the experience of recording a choir song on your own. IMPORTANT NOTES: If you do not record harmony this week, your participation points will be based on your one paragraph reflection FINAL: Please remember that participating in this recording IS your final project. Your final is worth 200 points - which can make or break your choir grade.

Raingruberr				AP Computer Prin The AP test for this class will only be the Explore and the Create tasks. There will be no multiple choice test. So, the explore should be mostly done. Fine tune it and get it in. Spend your time working on the create task! Make it amazing. See Google Classroom, under the Create and Explore topics, for the questions and useful tips.			AP Computer Sci The AP test will only cover units 1-7, not 8-10. To see what exactly is in those units, see Classroom. The College Board has not posted exactly what the test will look like, but I have a feeling it will be free response programming only. So, see classroom for details on what is required in Edhesive, and practice writing code, preferably with a pen and paper. Use your old assignments and write them until you can write them from memory.

For the “Vocab” sections, you may use the vocab for each chapter from your cuaderno. Please write the Spanish words with the English translations. (One vocab word per blank.) If you don’t have your vocab or need a little help with the grammar, you may go to the link in the Weekly Work Grid and scroll down to find the chapter you need. Then click on the PDF for “Repaso del capítulo,” which will have 2 pages. The first is the vocab page and the second is a grammar review. *Any missing assignments: due 05/22
